DETAILED ACTION

1. The drawings are objected to because it appears that the reference "121" (Fig. 2) should be changed to -- 221 -- (ball screw) and "120" should be changed to -- 222 -- (cylinder).

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

2. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

3. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claims 8 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

There is no antecedent basis for "the base frame" in claim 8, line 3, and claim 10, lines 7 and 9. It is unclear as whether applicant is claiming "the main frame" or "a base frame".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

7. Claims 1,2, and 9-12, as best understood, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Itoh et al. (6,406,246).

Itoh et al. (6,406,246) discloses a tray transferring apparatus comprising a main frame (232), a fixing means having first and second fixing units (233,233), a correcting means (233), a gripping means, and a sensor (243).

Art Unit: 3652

Re claims 9-12, a plurality of grippers and gripper plates (242), a ball screw (Fig. 3), a cylinder (236,237), a rod (239) and a guide block, a U-shape guide disposed on a plate 235.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. Claims 13-16 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Itoh et al. (6,406,246) in view of Kobayashi et al. (6,354,792).

Itoh et al. (6,406,246), as presented above, do not show an optical sensor. However, Kobayashi et al. (6,354,792) teaches an optical sensor, having a light emitting device and a light receiving device, to detect the tray cassette position (Col. 9, lines 27-48).

Accordingly, it would have been obvious to those skilled in the art to provide an optical sensor or sensors on the gripping plates of Itoh et al. (6,406,246) as taught by Kobayashi et al. (6,354,792) to precisely detect the position of the tray.

10. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Oh (6,334,641) in view of Kobayashi et al. (6,354,792).

Oh (6,334,641) discloses a transferring apparatus comprising a main frame (12), a fixing means having first and second fixing units(18,18), a correcting means (36), and a gripping means. The first and second fixing members (20) have L shape, a pin or screw, a slide member (16), and a spring (26). Oh (6,334,641) does not show an optical sensor. However, Kobayashi et al. (6,354,792) teaches an optical sensor, having a light emitting device and a light receiving device, to detect the gripped object. Accordingly, it would have been obvious to those skilled in the art to provide an optical sensor or sensors on the gripping plates of Oh (6,334,641) as taught by Kobayashi et al. (6,354,792) to precisely detect the position of an object.
